

Listening

It's important to look at people and stop what I'm doing when they have something to tell me.

Sometimes adults tell me very important things that I need to know.

Adults are happy if I look at them and listen to what they say.

If I don't look and listen I might miss something important.

I will listen to adults when they talk to me.

